Excerpt: . . . ourselves, with some aid from our friends. The project should be kept constantly in view; for its consummation would tend more than any thing else towards giving stability to the Society. It remains now with ourselves to interrupt the invariable sequence of events which has heretofore followed the removal of the seat of government from our midst. We have still, after omitting the names of members whom we have thereby lost. over 100 on our roll, and we have good promise of their activity in the number of papers already promised for the coming winter; but still it will be only by redoubled energy on the part of all that we shall be able to retain the prosperity we have enjoyed the last three years. ALTERED BITUMEN, FOUND IN THE EXCAVATIONS AT FORT NO. 3, POINT LEVIS, AND THE PRESENTLY ACCEPTED THEORIES ON...
