GAO reviewed the key assumptions the Department of Defense (DOD) has made during its bottom-up review to determine whether they reasonably support the execution of a two-conflict strategy. GAO found that: (1) the strategy of fighting and winning two nearly simultaneous conflicts will require a significant change in military planning; (2) DOD has not fully analyzed key bottom-up review assumptions about the ability of forces to redeploy from other operations to regional conflicts or between conflicts, availability of strategic lift and support forces, or the deployability of Army National Guard combat brigades; (3) war-fighting command officials believe that the DOD plan for responding to two simultaneous major regional conflicts is questionable; (4) official estimates of the amount of warning time between the onset of each conflict, mix of combat forces needed to respond to each conflict, and timing of force deployments differ significantly from DOD estimates; (5) the military commands believe that the DOD scenario may not reflect the most effective deployment of U. S. forces and they are examining options they believe may maximize the use of U. S. capabilities;...

Reviews

This written publication is fantastic. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You will not feel monotony at at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for concerning should you ask me).
